

Università degli Studi di Napoli Federico II

Dipartimento di Ingegneria Elettrica e delle Tecnologie dell'Informazione

Prof: Antonio Pescapè

Graduate Research Assistant, Research Associate, Post Doc Openings

I am now seeking qualified and self-motivated graduate students and Post Docs (both Italian and foreign) with background in networking, programming, statistical data analysis, in at least one of the following areas:

- broadband monitoring and censorship detection (in a project partially funded by Google),
- traffic generation and classification (in several projects in collaboration with worldwide Industries too),
- active probing and network tracerouting,
- smart city and mobility (in several projects in collaboration with worldwide Industries too).

Starting date: Dec 2013/Jan 2014 and summer 2014.

For those who are interested, please send me an email with subject "Traffic Openings 2013/2014" and with a copy of your resume (with photo, link to the research web page and a list of at least two references), transcripts, publication list, and other closely related credentials at pescap AT unina.it.

The position is full time and will be paid according to the current Italian scheme. The initial contract will be limited to one year with the possibility to extend up to three years. Positions will remain open until a suitable number of qualified candidates are selected. The salary will depend on the experience and seniority of the candidate.

About University of Naples Federico II and Naples

University of Naples Federico II is the third oldest University in Italy. The School of Engineering, with a population of 11,000 students, is the oldest in Europe and has recently celebrated its second centennial since the foundation by King Gioacchino Murat in 1811.

Naples (Italian: Napoli) is the third largest city in Italy, and is the capital of the Campania region. World-known for its rich history, art, culture, architecture, music, and gastronomy, Naples is a lively, exciting and bustling city situated on the southwest coast in a gorgeous gulf, and is surrounded by attractive tourist and archaeological sites such as Capri, Ischia, Amalfi Coast, Pompei, Ercolano, Mount Vesuvius. See <http://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/Naples> for further information.