

Fig. 1 In this figure the Nash Genetic Algorithm structure is shown. The sequence is composed by five steps, from the generation of random populations, one for each player, to achieving the Nash equilibrium, through the evaluation of a fitness function based on GAS approach and mutation operations among the individuals of each population. The detailed description is presented in the text

